

COMMUNICATE CONFIDENTLY

With Just About Anyone

Amy Narishkin, PhD
works with organizations and their leaders who want to be confident communicators to attract and retain diverse talent.

What audiences have to say...

“Dr. Amy has an extraordinary ability to open minds, lead with compassion and genuinely connect with her audience.”

– Kelli Risse, *Rise Up and Live Wellness

“Dr. Amy’s program at the National Organization of State Offices of Rural Health conference truly touched my heart. Her program was about empowerment and taking care of ourselves and others while we do what we do at work.”

– Sandali Chandradasa, U.S. Dept. of Health & Human Services

“Dr. Amy is a natural and talented facilitator. She used personal experience and data to highlight ways to use the tools she was providing. I would recommend Dr. Amy to any person or organization that was seeking a consultant, coach, or speaker to improve their interpersonal and team dynamics.”

– Jeff Murphy, Boston University Development & Alumni Relations

As a speaker, Dr. Amy creates an environment where everyone feels seen, heard, valued and engaged. You will:

- Uncover the value of a diverse organization that attracts and retains talent.
- Identify what helps and hinders productive conversations.
- Discover how diverse teams outperform homogenous teams.
- Leverage a globally-recognized tool for measuring ability to navigate cross-cultural conversations.
- Recognize cultural differences as an asset to your organization.
- Unify your team by shifting workplace drama to genuine human connection.
- Leave with three skills you can use today to feel confident working with just about anyone.

Each program is tailored to meet your objectives and can be delivered as a keynote, workshop or breakout, either in-person or virtually.

With a PhD in adult education and decades of experience, Dr. Amy has worked with over 400 leaders domestically and internationally. Along with her monthly blog, she regularly writes for the Illinois Business Journal.

+1 314-401-0051

Amy@EmpoweringPartners.com
www.EmpoweringPartners.com

Executive Coaching and Leadership Development

LEARN TO...

- Leverage a globally-recognized tool for navigating cross-cultural conversations.
- Develop measurable, doable and intriguing objectives based on empirical data.
- Tackle real-time context-specific needs.
- Identify your genuine leadership style and confidently adapt it to the needs of your team.
- Drive collaboration by developing mutual-understanding.
- Maximize group engagement in team meetings.
- Set clear, compassionate boundaries.
- Identify and develop the skills for non-violent communication that keeps relationships intact and builds community.
- Resolve conflict by clearly identifying the real need.

Each coaching session is tailored to meet your objectives and is delivered virtually.

Dr. Amy Narishkin works with leaders and executive teams who want to be confident communicators so that they can attract and retain diverse talent.

Connect with Dr. Amy

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/dramynarishkin/>

What clients have to say...

“As a result of executive coaching with Dr. Amy, I feel confident in my leadership style. Hers is not the kind of leadership training where someone is telling how you should be or lead. This is leadership training where you get to discover more of you and your authentic self.”

– Pam Henderson, Southern Illinois Healthcare

“Dr. Amy rocks!! She cultivates the kind of work environment that is conducive for healthy productivity and provides strategies to create positive culture.”

– Dr. Julius Sims, Urban K-Life

“Through executive coaching with Dr. Amy, I’ve learned even if it’s initially awkward, I can have the conversation, because people want to talk. People want to tell their story. I know now that a compassionate culture within our hospital group is created one encounter at a time.”

– Jennifer Harre, Southern Illinois Healthcare

EMPOWERING
PARTNERS